The Intruder's Court.

The intruder's court, with Judge W. W. Bennett presiding, adjourned Saturday, after holding a week's session. During this time over one hundred and thirty cases were heard and as soon as Mr. Bennett returns to Muskogee where he will report to Indian Agent Shoenfelt, final disposition of these cases will be made. The court took testimony here relating to the possession of Indian lands, rental contracts, etc. The purpose of the court is to see that the Indian, who is clamoring for his allotment, gets it, or in other words to see that the intruders are ousted.

Many cases examined developed peculiar phases and there were instances where the Federal courts must necessarily settle the controversies between the Indian and the alleged intruder. Where there are rental contracts on some basis for holding lands, the matter will be adjudicated by the courts. Mr. Bennett worked hard while here and the docket at present is in good shape. He expects to return to Ardmore within the next six weeks. By that time he figures that there will be an accumulation of new cases.

The court went to Muskogee to take testimony in Creek cases, after which the other nations will be visited for a similar purpose. It will be seen that this court has much to do, and his visit is of great assistance to the Indian agent and federal courts.

New Photo Studio.

One of the new industries in the city is the O'Meara Photo company, composed of P. O'Meara and W. R. Walters. The new company is located in the old city hall where they have all the equipments for turning out a fine grade of photographs and of producing the latest effects in scenery and back ground. This company also does a fine grade of portraits and oil, scenic and figure painting and pastel work.

To acquaint the people with our location and with our fine grade of work we will make photos for the next ten days at one-half price.

Likes Ardmore.

Among the visitors in the city none are more favorably impressed with the advantages of the city and its future prospects than J. M. Bracey of Little Rock, who is here on a visit to his son, H. B. Bracey and family.

This is not Mr. Bracey's first trip to Ardmore. His impression of the town has been good from the start, but the more he visits the place the better he likes the big Indian Territory town and he has ample reasons for saying so. Mr. Bracey was quick to note the improvements that have been made here since his last visit. The progress of the town, if nothing else, impresses him into the belief that Ardmore is going forward and that the town is growing fast. Mr. Bracey is connected with the firm of Gas Blass and Company, one of the largest dry goods houses in the state of Arkansas. He will remain here a few days.

Spragins & Co. have received the finest line of refrigerators ever in the city. The new enameled, stone lined refrigerator known as the White Mountain, is absolutely the best ice saver on the market. Their stock includes all sizes and prices. Call and examine the line.
